The Not-So

Newlywed Chronicles

Fabulous Fourth Issue

... desperately needing to know how to turn back time, Mark & Deb traveled to Las Vegas to seek the wisdom of Cher

They were thinking of taking up residence, when Lego called ...

So Mark went off to see the world...

and make the world a better place--- brick by brick

Too bad Deb's not here.

Too bad Deb's not here.

Too bad Deb's not here.

I wonder what Deb is up to.

Meanwhile, Deb was left pondering what to do with herself. She tried several online classes like accounting and computer troubleshooting but thought something a little spicier was needed. She decided to become a hooker.

No, no... a rug hooker!

She also joined an aquatic exercise group. Despite being the youngest, she just about keeps up with the rigorous pace.

For Deb, family reunions took center stage in 2009. They hosted the Brewster Family Reunion (a once-in-a-lifetime honor) and attended the first ever Ciavolino Family Reunion.

For Mark, it was all about the comic book room.

Almost done.

Though Mark is not solely responsible for the content of this card, he is solely responsible for the fact that it is late.

Happy Holidays!
