

The Not-So Newlywed Chronicles

Fantastic Fifth Issue

It was the beginning of 2010, Deb and Mark were busy living happily ever after when Deb started to question her life ...

Hmm, I have this fairytale life but something's missing.

Then in an instant she knew...
only a dishwasher would make her life complete.

January came and Mark decided a trip to the Florida Keys would be more fun.

Sure was a nice trip, Honey, but the dishes won't wash themselves.

Later that year...

Babe look a new mattress.
No more tossing and turning!

Again, quite lovely but not a dishwasher.

June was full of surprises. Mark and Deb traveled to a far off land where they participated in the 13th Annual Adirondacks Polka Festival and the local fireman's BINGO. Deb was secretly hoping to win enough for the dishwasher.

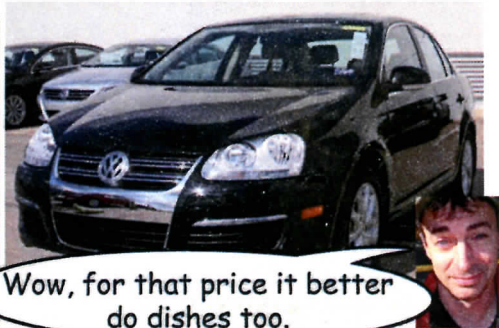

She was nearly run out of town when she won 3 of the first 10 games. The jackpot ... a mere $25.

The best surprise was her new job! Cheers were heard round the world.

Deb was over the moon. She decided to treat herself to that most perfect of gifts.

Wow, for that price it better do dishes too.

But now that most beautiful time of year has returned ... a time for light in the darkness, peace, good will, and miracles. And presents too.

On 16 Woodland Drive, there's one girl hoping for more than a few dancing sugarplums. Will Santa come through in a pinch? Will Mark? Stay tuned ... Merry Christmas!
